Vienna, December 7, N. S.

THE Hereditary Provinces have undertaken to furniſh 25000 Recruits, partly in Men and partly in Money: There is a Regiment of Dragoons and two Battallions coming from Wirtemberg, and this Court will endeavour to obtain ſome more Troops from the Princes of the Empire. The States of Sileſia have offered to furniſh three Millions of Florins. M. Lazenski is in daily Conference with the Miniſters for concerting the Operations of the next Campaign; and a Ruſſian Colonel, who has been in the Emperor's Army, is to ſet out in a few Days for Petersbourg with the Reſult of thoſe Conferences. A Commiſſion is at laſt appointed to examine Count Seckendorff's Affair: Feldt Marſhal Harrach is at the Head of it; General Cordua, Count Wurmbrand, who has lately had the Command of the Imperial Troops in Flanders, M. Keſler, a Councellor of War, and M. Pelſer, Councellor of the Chancery of Auſtria, are the other Members of that Commiſſion. They are to examine that Affair with Count Seckendorff himſelf, after which the whole Council of War is to refer it to the Emperor, with their Opinion upon it, and his Imperial Majeſty will decide the Matter. The Chevalier Zeno, the new Ambaſſador of Venice, arrived here the Day before Yeſterday: His Predeceſſor the Chevalier Erizzo will remain here about fourteen Days longer.

Dreſden, Dec. 11, N. S. By the laſt Letters from Count Rutowski we are informed, that he was arrived with the Saxon Troops under his Command at Alt Arat, beyond Temeſwaer, and had eſcaped being attacked by the Enemy becauſe of the great Quantity of Snow which fell in the Mountains, and hindred the Turks from coming to attack them, as they deſigned to do on all Sides. He writes, that the Imperial Commiſſaries have divided the ſaid Saxon Troops into two Bodies, to facilitate their March. The Regiments of Horſe are reduced to 60 Men able to do Service, and the Foot in Proportion.

Hague, Dec. 20, N. S. The Princeſs Royal and the Prince of Orange, with their whole Court, left Breda the 18th in the Morning. Their Paſſage from Moerdyck to Rotterdam was pretty difficult, the Wind being contrary and very high. They came to that Town about Ten in the Evening. They paſſed near this Place Yeſterday Morning with two Yachts in their Way to Amſterdam, where they are to embark for Frieſland. Count Golofkin received an Expreſs from his Court the 18th Inſtant, with the News, that the Turks had abandoned the Siege of Oczakow; and he has notified the ſame to the States. The chief Particulars are, That while Felt Marſhal Munich was marching towards the Ukraine to put his Troops into Winter Quarters, the new Grand Vizier drew together a numerous Army towards the Neiſter, and made Preparations of all neceſſary Stores to attack Oczakow; and having received his laſt Orders from the Sultan for that Expedition, detached the Seraskier Gentzy Ali-Bacha with 60000 Turks, who were joined by about 20000 Tartars. Some advanced Parties appeared before Oczakow on the 5th of October, but did nothing of Conſequence; by the 16th the main Army being come up, the Place was entirely inveſted on the Land Side, and the Turks opened their Trenches that Day; and having carried on their Approaches near to the Counterſcarp, between the Town and ſome Redoubts lately raiſed by the Ruſſian Garriſon on the Side of the River Liman, made a Lodgment, and poſted ſeveral Thouſand Men there. That Night and moſt Part of the Day following they fired continually with their Cannon, Mortars, and ſmall Arms, and towards the Evening of the 17th, made a vigorous Attack upon the Counterſcarp, but were repulſed, driven from their Lodgment, and forced to retire with conſiderable Loſs. The two following Days they made new Attacks, and attempted to mount the Works by Scaling Ladders in different Places, but were beaten off every where with great Slaughter of their Men. After theſe Repulſes, the Turks carried on their Approaches: till on the 8th of November, having Sprung two Mines, they gave a general Aſſault with ſuch Fury that they made their Way to the Ditch of the Town, but were repulſed by the good Conduct of Major General Stoffeln, Governor of the Place, and the Bravery of his Garriſon, with ſuch Execution, that the Night between the 9th and 10th they abandoned all their Works, Approaches and Batteries, ſet Fire to their Camp, and then retired ſo precipitately, that by the Evening of the next Day they were got above 40 Verſts from the Place.

Admiralty Office, December 12, 1737.

Whereas Information has been given, That ſome Frauds and Abuſes have been committed by a Clerk employed in paying the Penſions and Bounty Money to Sea Officers Widows; the Governours of that Charity do hereby give Notice, That a Court of Aſſiſtants will meet at the Admiralty Office, on Thurſday the 22d Inſtant, at Ten in the Morning, in order to inquire into the ſame. And all ſuch Widows as have received ſhort of the Sums ordered to be paid to them, or have ſold the ſame before Payment, are deſired to attend, and inform the ſaid Court of what they know of that Matter, in order to the procuring what Satisfaction can be got for them. And thoſe who live at too great a Diſtance to attend themſelves, or for any Body to appear for them, are deſired to ſend me an Account thereof in Writing, in order to its being laid before the ſaid Court.
